

INNOVATION

innovation starts here.

LET'S GET STARTED .....

Innovation starts right here in Anderson County. Our economic future depends on it. In a business world where competition is fierce, innovative approaches to how we attract new business and grow our already vibrant industry base are paramount.

At Innovate Anderson, innovation is not just in our name – it's how we do business. Our non-profit public/private community development organization works tirelessly to tell the story of Anderson County in the global marketplace.

Innovation also happens at home. The Clemson University Advanced Materials Center – home to cutting-edge research that continues to lure world-renowned companies to the Upstate – is just one example of Innovate Anderson's ability to develop a project and take it to the next level. We also put that same level of energy into bringing top-tier entertainment and events here – from sports and conventions to nationally-recognized festivals – through the Anderson Convention & Visitors Bureau.

Thanks to our investors, Innovate Anderson creates a powerful brand and image for Anderson County that ultimately results in greater investment, increased job creation, enhanced prosperity and better quality of life for our citizens.

But innovators don't rest on their laurels. To remain competitive and cutting-edge, we need the support of our contributors. Your investment in Innovate Anderson provides the resources to spearhead a comprehensive marketing strategy aimed at attracting new business. In essence, you help us showcase Anderson County to the world.
